PROSPECTS OF THE WEST.

It has long been our opinion that too high an estimate could hardly be placed upon the future destinies of this vast but youthful domain. The scene before us now, however, seems to realize all our most extravagant anticipations. Every village and every city of this wonderful and happy land is now teeming with crowds of eager visitants from the lands of our fathers, all intent on catching something of the spirit and fortunes of the hardy pioneers who have so lately preceded them. Our own little city is at this moment overflowing with strangers and although every nerve has been strained to prepare a good reception, and give a hearty welcome to visitors still our utmost limits are inadequate to supply the demand for room. Detroit has doubtless seen more people within her limits for the last month than ever before were found here in double the time. It is just so with all the more prominent stopping places between this and the village of Chicago. It is said that people, on entering this last place, have been absolutely astonished. At such a vast distance with such a world of woods and waters intervening, the stranger imagines that he has almost passed the limits of creation when suddenly appears rising as if by magic from the lake, the above named beautiful and prosperous village. He enters it, and finds among the busy, wonder seeking throngs, hundreds of those whom he had begun to think of as the inhabitants of another sphere. Instead of Indians, log huts, tomahawks and scalping knives, he sees with wondering delight, the beauty, fashion and refinement of the literary and commercial emporiums of America. Things indeed remind him occasionally of primeval manners, and the presence of an occasional sump or of a half naked troop of aboriginals, serves to throw a charm of poetry over the tour ensemble of the place.....

No thing has been wanting in this country but men. Money, we could very well dispense with, for with a little industry we find a full supply of everything, but even luxury could demand. We have no objection, however, to exchange our good things for the precious metals and the people of the east seem to have understood us at last on this point. Some millions of dollars are at this moment jingling in the pockets of strangers ready to seduce the land holders here to sell their patrimonies and move to "the West"....It is so everywhere, land, money, deeds, speculations these are the words which are repeated hourly and momently among the busy calculators from the east.

This is as it should be. Men have at last awaked from their troubled dreams about "battles, failures, schemes" &c. and are now alive to their true interests, and to the real worth of the west. All we have ever asked of our eastern brethren has been "to come and see" for themselves, to take the evidence of their own senses, and we have always believed that our adopted home would then be rightly appreciated. We rejoice that it is so appreciated, and we believe that the impetus this year given to affairs in this country is such as nothing can arrest.

We see in the accession of wealth and influence now making to our Territory the means of improving the condition and happiness of the people far beyond their expectations. They have necessarily been obliged to forego many of the advantages of old settled places, such as schools, conveniences for religious worship, good public buildings, sufficient manufacturing and milling establishments. Nature has indeed done her part in supplying us with the means, but art and capital were wanting. These we are now in a fair way to secure, and with their attainment, we doubt not a very short period will find the people of this country in possession of all the comforts, conveniences and luxuries of the, at present, most privileged portions of our country.

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

The program at the October meeting of the Society was given over to a "Symposium on Family Associations and Summer Research". Led by Mr. Elijah Hunter Owen, a number of interesting talks were made. Mr. Owen told of the JOHN OWEN of Windsor Family Reunion held at Farmington, Conn. Mrs. Louisa Conover Butler gave a vivid account of the VAN KOUWENHOVEN (CONOVER) gathering at Atlantic City. Mr. Nelson Newton Woodruff related his experiences at the MATHEW NEWTON-PELIEF STRAIGHT Family Association meeting at Medina, Ohio. Mr. Francis Waring Robinson decided a wedding of a cousin in New Jersey ought to be counted as a reunion since some fifty WARINGS were present. Miss Doris Berning told of the reunion at Hea or Lane, Indiana of about one hundred descendants of the GEORGE RAMSAY, J. line from George Ramsay, the emigrant.

Mr. Charles A. McComb reported on the meeting of the COOLEY Family Association which he, unfortunately, had been unable to attend. Mrs. Clara H. Sipperley gave an interesting account of the ADRIEN HEGEMAN family gathering which is always held in the cemetery located on what was once the land of her great grandfather WM. GOSSETT at Gossett's Mills, about three miles south west of Porter, Porter Co., Indiana. Mr. Clarence L. Beavis was not present but we know that he attended the reunion of the JOHN TACKARUP family in London, Canada. All expressed the feeling of the importance of such gatherings for the collecting and preserving of valuable family records and for strengthening the bonds of friendship and unity.

On the topic of "Summer Research" Mrs. E. B. Kresge related some of her experiences on the trail of her great-great grandfather, ELISHA WERRILL, through Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut. In Easton, Pennsylvania she saw the wall of KONRAD KROSSE (1) the emigrant ancestor of the Kresge family. Mrs. James M. Glynn en has as usually told of the unknown cousins she and Mr. M. Flynn found in New York. APSENEAU in Syracuse, ARNOLD in Carmel and TOWNSEND in Lake Mahopac. Mr. Geo. L. Austin described an interesting old house one which he and Mrs. Austin looked up in the old South Jackson Church and Cemetery near Jackson, Minn.

Mrs. Eleanor Gerard Russell recently spent some weeks in research in several states. In Pittsburgh she searched the records of some of the early settlers of western Pennsylvania. Many of whose descendants now live in Detroit. In Washington, D.C. she worked in the Library of Congress and the National Archives. In Richmond, Va. in the Virginia State Library and in Buffalo, N.Y. in the Grosvenor Library she also found much valuable genealogical material. All of this she is willing to discuss with members interested in the same families or to help any one who wants to know how to find records in these various places.

Miss Doris Berning devoted part of her vacation to looking up records of RAMSAY descendants in Onondaga Co., N.Y. including the families of BOYINGTON, WARNER, LA DU, BARNUM, QUACKENBUSH, SNOW, WALDRON, also gathering further material on the WANDS family, many of whose records she contributed to the February, March and April, 1939, issues of this magazine. Also some work was done on the descendants of JOHN SMITH, Revolutionary soldier, whose daughter married her emigrant ancestor, GEORGE RAMSAY, SR. As a good member of the Society she is willing to share all this.

Mr. Floyd A. Church returns from his summer's work in the northern part of the state with his usual grist of cemetery and other records for the Society.

If you have a copy of this magazine for October, 1938, which you do not need, will you contribute it to complete some library files? See Mr. Martin.

How YOU can help to improve YOUR magazine. Bring in some new members. More members, more interest, more funds to work with, a better magazine. Your editors see many places for improvement, as we know you do. Will you help in this way?

SOME DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS STEPHENS OF SIMSBURY, CONN.

Contributed by H. F. Sturtevant.

Editors Note:- In the issue of November 1938 of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research Magazine appeared a brief article by Mr. Sturtevant called a "Tragedy of Our Times". It is summed up in the final words- "The Passing of a Fine Old Family and the Dissolution of its Treasures and Records". From among the scattered papers on the floor of the old house, Mr. Sturtevant picked up some faded photographs of the old people he had once known and a manuscript. This old manuscript he turned over to the editors for consideration. We think it worth publication, incomplete though it is. We can find no record of this Stephens family, except a brief account in a History of Lewis County N.Y. 1883, p. 302ff., and it does not agree in all respects with this manuscript.

According to Mr. Sturtevant and as evidenced by the manuscript itself it was written by W. Hudson Stephens, an attorney-at-law in Lowville, N.Y. It is written on legal cap paper, of lines scratched out or written over so that it is quite difficult to decipher. Pasted on some of the pages there are slips of another and different paper, parts of what was a genealogical form questionnaire. On the back of one of these slips is a letter head reading "United States Consulate Windsor Ontario Dominion of Canada 1869." On the back of another slip is the following "Stevens Family Genealogy. The Undersigned, late U.S. Consul at Leghorn, Italy, and Smyrna Turkey in Asia is engaged in preparing a Genealogical History of the Stevens Family including its different branches from its first settlement in the United States to the present time with a view to publication."

A letter to the Department of State in Washington brought the information that Andrew J. Stevens of Iowa was appointed Consul at Leghorn on August 12 1861 and took charge on January 1 1862 was appointed Consul at Smyrna on March 21 1865 and served at that post from December 1865 to March 1866 and was appointed Consul at Windsor, Ontario, Canada on September 29 1866 and his successor was appointed on April 20 1869. We find no Genealogy of the Stevens family written by any Andrew J. Stevens nor any record of this particular Stephens family in any Stevens genealogy.

Included with this manuscript is a letter from Lloyd C. Yale, also on legal cap paper. The heading reads "Potsdam Junction, N.Y. April 7th 1880" and is addressed to "W. Hudson Stephens Dr. Cousin". From this letter it is fair to assume that W. Hudson Stephens was collecting his family history for a Genealogy to be written by Andrew J. Stevens. What became of it we do not know. This old manuscript remains salvaged from the wreckage of an old home by one who is ever zealous in the interests of genealogy. The Editor.

My great great grandfather's name is Thomas Stephens born 1689? or Dec. 1692. On 30 March 1719 he married at Simsbury Conn. Miriam Buell, the 12th child of Peter Buell the 2nd son of Wm Buell Emigrant, of Windsor, Conn. Peter was a settler at Simsbury, probably on the lands granted his father by the town of Simsbury and devised to him by the will of his father.

The town of Simsbury granted 2nd Jan'y 1723 75 acres to Thomas Stephens "at a place called the Copper Hill" which was laid out to him the 24 June following. His will dated 27 Feb'y, 1751/2, is on record in the Probate office, Hartford, Conn. and he died on 25 March following. It is said Thomas lived and died about a mile North of Newgate mines and that his place was afterwards occupied by his son Thomas and is still in the possession of the descendants of the original proprietor. A later memory is of a letter arriving one Christmas Eve, containing a check for one thousand dollars to pay the mortgage on the homestead as a Christmas greeting to Samuel and Martha. The "Records of the Towne of New Rochelle 1699-1828" p. 405 make first mention of John Schureman, Jr. in a land description concerning "a line between his land and Jeremiah Schureman's" Mar. 26, 1812. Another description reads "part at a Gateway belonging to Benjamin F. Burling adjoining the land of John Schureman on the North end By a parallel with the School house and A Carriage house or barn belonging to Jonathan Badeau." John B. Schureman's name is frequently mentioned in the town records in connection with public affairs at New Rochelle. He was Inspector of Highways 1812-1814 and 1819-1821; Constable, Commissioner of Schools 1818-1821, Assessor 1824. A small, bordered, printed paper which the writer has reads:

"John B. Schureman, Member
Methodist Episcopal Church
Founded A. D. 1784
3rd Quarterly Ticket, Apr. 4, 1847
I. C. Abbott, Minister

"Wait on the Lord, be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart.

Psa. XXVII, 14

"Author of faith, to thee I cry,
To thee, who wouldst not have me die,

But know the truth and live;
 Open mine eyes to see thy face;
 Work in my heart the saving grace,
 The life eternal give."

- 26 John Bogart Schureman, lived at New Rochelle, until the spring of 1832 when he came to Lenawee Co., Mich., and settled on sections 22 and 23, in Rome Township, taking up 320 acres of government land. He also entered 160 acres in Dover Township. He at once built a house a large Colonial the first frame house in the township. In the Dec. 9 1931 Detroit News appeared pictures of this old house with an article by Howell Taylor Architect. By permission of the News the following is quoted:

"When John B. Schureman built his house in Rome Township in 1832 about seven miles west of Adrian on the Territorial Road he followed so faithfully the vigorous precedent of Colonial design which he had seen and come to love in his boyhood home at Westchester New York that we have this fine old pioneer house an almost perfect example of middle Atlantic coast Colonial architecture and one which continues to challenge today our lawdy and meaningless detail which abounds so plentifully in most of the domestic buildings. The front entrance is beautifully designed and executed the many paneled door being built of solid black walnut in fact almost a museum piece were we selecting examples of notable pioneer architecture for indefinite preservation and a monument to the skill of the builder." (It is a matter of family knowledge that it took one man three weeks to build this door.) "Inside are equally good fireplaces and a front stair rail which would do justice to a Duncan Phyfe."

"But John Schureman - of Dutch descent - was a well educated man and became an influence in the community which was lasting and good so it was natural that his home should be one of culture and refinement. That he built well is evident for his house still stands well preserved and invitingly hospitable to the seeker of beauty of craftsmanship."

The Detroit News of Nov. 1 1936 in an article by Shoenfield

"The doors were solid walnut displaying six panels. That made for the Schureman house, seven miles west of Adrian on the Territorial road is of black walnut and a museum piece in thorough harmony with the building and an almost perfect example of middle Atlantic coast Colonial architecture."

The old house was built on an eminence with a large yard shaded by many large trees past which the old "plank road" (now a national highway) passed. It was a treasure house of old mahogany. The Governor Winthrop desk was used for the U.S. mail which came to the township as John B. Schureman was the first postmaster.

As the settlers came in larger numbers, the Schureman home became headquarters for them, while they looked about for sites for their homes. All who came were accommodated, "John B" (as he was called) lending aid to all and giving all possible information. He was a man of ability with a good education for those days and possessing considerable business knowledge, he was looked upon by the settlers as their superior in matters of public welfare. The township of Rome was organized at his home and the first town meeting held there.
